A POULTRY FOOD OF GENUINE MERIT.

The manufacturer of any stock food must be attentive to all the details of its preparation, being certain that only first class materials enter into its composition. It is claimed for "Page's Perfect Poultry Food" that there doesn't enter into its composition a single particle of the ordinary meat meal which is the basis of so many poultry foods.

The nearest approach to it is what is known as tallow scraps or crappings, and every grandmother who has lived on the farm and taken care of chickens knows there is nothing better to make hens lay than tallow scraps, and "Page's Perfect Poultry Food" contains a considerable percentage of this ingredient.

If you want to know more about this food and the best ways of using it, write to C. S. Page, Hyde Park, Vt., for his booklet, "Profitable Poultry." It will be sent free, postpaid, to anyone mentioning this paper.

LUNENBURG.

Former Essex County Pastor Succeding in Massachusetts.

Many in this vicinity will be interested in the following clipping from West Newbury, Mass., as Mr. Cameron was a former Guildhall pastor and his wife was Miss Annie Balch of Lunenburg, Vt. "The people of Second Congregational church, West Newbury, were proud recently when their beautiful house of worship was formally dedicated with appropriate exercises. Seldom has a minister a better right to thank God and take courage than has Rev. A. J. Cameron, pastor of this church. He is a church builder both literally and spiritually. In most of his preceding parishes he has remodelled the church or built a parsonage. While here he has done both. On the eve of the re-dedication of the re-modelled old church it was burned, followed a few weeks later by the mysterious burning of the parsonage. The situation was enough to discourage an ordinary congregation, but Second's was dauntless. With the exception of a few hundred dollars they have rebuilt from their own resources a beautifully equipped church and a splendid parsonage. They had little insurance, and so it has been a matter of consecration and a spirit of self-sacrifice. A beautiful pulpit set and Bible were the gifts of private individuals. On the day of dedication other gifts of complete furnishings were announced including a fine pipe organ from a former resident of the parish. This makes the fifth time in Mr. Cameron's experience as a pastor that he has received the largest accession in the history of five respective churches he had served."

The Congregational society and Sunday school will observe their Christmas celebration with exercises and tree on Monday evening, Dec. 26 at the church.

Mrs. B. A. Taylor passed away at her home in Lunenburg, on the evening of Dec. 6, the 7th day after a surgical operation from which she seemed to rally. The funeral services were held at her late home Dec. 8, Rev. Henry C. Howard giving an impressive address. The casket was borne by her four sons, Dr. Earnest Taylor of Morgan Center, Edgar S. Taylor of Lunenburg, Harold R. Taylor of Sheldon Junction, and Richard P. Taylor of Boston. Three daughters, Cora W. Taylor of New York City, Mrs. Edward L. Aldrich of Dalton and Mrs. Maurice Peabody of South Windham, Me., were also present. Mrs. Taylor has one living brother, Dr. N. H. Scott of Wolfboro, N. H. Lucinda Scott Taylor was the daughter of Nathaniel P. Scott and Margaret Harriman Scott. She was born in Dalton, N. H., Sept. 16, 1846. On June 28, 1870 Lucinda Scott and Bert A. Taylor were married in Dalton, where they lived until March, 1899, when the family came to reside in Lunenburg. Every one permitted to know Mrs. Taylor well has been impressed by the beauty and sweetness of her life and character. The family have the sincere sympathy of all.
